A CAREER INTERVENTION FOR HUMANITARIAN ENTRANT STUDENTS

Speaker Biography

Cathy Hughes has 25 years experience in career development in a diverse range of contexts. Currently a Career Counsellor at St Patrick’s College, she has implemented a structured theory and evidence based career development programme from Grades 7-12, including career interventions to develop the career management skills of students at risk of making a poor transition from school to further education, training or employment such as Humanitarian Entrant students.

Rachel Scott is currently an English as Another Language Teacher at St Patrick’s College and the Humanitarian Entrants Liaison Officer for Catholic Education Tasmania, Launceston. She has taught a range of subjects to students from Kindergarten to Year Twelve in Tasmania, USA, South Korea and China.